A message from the Chairman

On behalf of myself and the board, we would like to congratulate Byron Nolde, CEO, on his retirement announcement.

Byron has been the CEO for the past 20 years, making him one of the longest serving CEOs of Oconto Electric Cooperative.

Byron's accomplishments are many during his 20 years as CEO. I'd like to mention a few of them:

Under Byron's leadership, OEC's system reliability has improved, and he has successfully negotiated wholesale power contracts and union contracts.

OEC has secured its financial stability with a diversified financial portfolio, invested in the Cushion of Credit program, and has gained significant savings in loan interest through his guidance.

Byron has been an instrumental advocate for cooperatives in fighting issues in Washington, D.C., on proposed legislation and regulations that would have negatively affected cooperative rates. He has gained a trusted relationship with our membership.

We appreciate all that Byron has contributed to the success of the cooperative. We wish him many years of happiness and good health in his future retirement.

Please join us at our annual meeting on April 13 at the Oconto Falls PAC to congratulate him personally as he provides his final CEO report to the membership.

Avoid postal delays by using SmartHub

OEC occasionally receives calls from our members notifying us of a mail delay. With SmartHub, you can avoid postal delays as you will now receive a monthly email that states your bill amount and provides a link to where you can view your bill online. This email is typically sent on the 7th of the month, which is the date the bills are processed.

SmartHub is useful in several ways. You can enroll in automatic payments with a checking account, savings account, or with a credit card. If that's not right for you, that's okay! You can just view your bill the day it's available without having to wait for the mail to reach your home. It's that easy!

You can sign up either with the SmartHub app or at www.ocontoelectric.com. If you have any questions, please call OEC at 920-846-2816.

Oconto Electric Cooperative Annual Meeting

NEW! Your official notice will be in the April issue of Wisconsin Energy Cooperative News. (You will not receive a postcard)

DON'T TEST YOUR LUCK!

These five simple steps will help keep your home safe from potential electrical hazards.

Never overload an electrical socket with too many plugs. Check all outlets to ensure they are cool to the touch, have protective faceplates, and are in proper working order.

Check electrical cords to make sure they are not running across doorways or under carpets. Not only could this be a tripping hazard, but the cords can overheat, and the constant foot traffic can make the wires frayed or broken over time.

Make sure you're using the right extension cord for the job, and never double up. Remember that (1149300) extension cords are meant to be temporary.

Install safety caps and covers over all electrical outlets to keep children from inserting objects—including their fingers—into the outlet.

Use ground-fault circuit interrupters (GFCIs) to reduce the risk of shock. They should be installed inside the home in bathrooms, kitchens, garages, and basements. All outdoor receptacles should be GFCI protected.

Madison

Each year, WECA invites board members, general managers and employees from cooperatives around the state to travel to Madison for Education & Lobby Days. This event includes a full day of learning about timely topics regarding regulatory changes, industry-specific issues, and legislative matters affecting cooperatives. The following day, the cooperative groups then visit the capitol to discuss these topics with our elected representatives and senators. This is a great opportunity for cooperative leaders to go over some of these issues, ensuring that lawmakers understand how the decisions they make impact our rural communities and our co-op members.

Energy Efficiency Tip of the Month

Lengthen the life of your clothes dryer with regular cleaning. Clean the lint filter after every load, which improves air circulation and safety. Check the lint trap opening to ensure it's clean. Use a vacuum to remove any lint that's fallen inside the opening.

If you use dryer sheets, check the lint filter for residue buildup. Remove any residue with hot water and a nylon brush or toothbrush. Over time, dryer sheets can leave a film on the filter, which can affect the performance of the motor.

HIDDEN ACCOUNT NUMBERS

Oconto Electric Cooperative hides two account numbers in the local pages of the Wisconsin Energy Cooperative News each month. If you spot your account number, call our office before you receive the next issue, and OEC will give you a $15 credit on your electric bill or a $25 credit if you have a load management receiver. The February account numbers belonged to Paula Meyer, Lena, and Jerry Johnson, Krakow.
